*"A powerful story of an adventurous woman coping with strange customs in a foreign land.
It is an inspiration to all women."*

-Claire Shapiro, author, Sparrow, a novel

SIAM Was Our Home, my first recently published book begins as the memoirs of my mother, Edna Bruner Bulkley. She was an extraordinary woman who took a leap of faith 100 years ago when she went as a missionary to Thailand. The book was expanded with in-depth recollections my siblings and I had of our childhood in that exotic land. Inspired by my mother's accomplishments, my mission at 82 is to encourage people to "Dust off your dreams and go for it!"

I am available for speaking engagements.

"...was a delight to read. I want more and more..."

- Jeane S-J, Seattle, WA

"fascinating ... read it non-stop, neglecting sleep, food, and chores..."

- Nancy S., Lummi Island, WA

"SIAM Was Our Home, is long on domestic and cultural impressions... it offers an interesting view into a different time and place."
